Beth MacLaren Smallwood Scholarship - Master of Instructional Leadership

* indicates a required field

Scholarship Description

This scholarship supports a leader or emerging leader in a school that caters for children who are deaf and hard of hearing, to undertake the Master of Instructional Leadership. The scholarship provides up to $30,000 in total over the two-year duration of the course. The Master of Instructional Leadership focuses on the impact of evidence-based approaches to the leadership of teaching and learning, with a strong emphasis on research. Students of this program will build skills and knowledge to enhance effective teaching and learning, and contribute to greater student achievement. Strong or emerging leaders in the field of deaf education within Victoria, who have an express interest in the impact of evidence-based leadership approaches for teaching and learning, are encouraged to apply for this scholarship. Applicants from both metropolitan and rural areas will be considered. The successful applicant will build their skills and knowledge to enhance effective teaching and learning, contribute to greater student achievement and improve their school's performance. The course utilises an action learning model personally based around the candidate's own attributes and setting. Benefits Up to $30,000 in total over the duration of the course, paid in twice annual instalments. Eligibility
